This issue will be communicated to the Council when options are determined.

6. Constituent Reports

ESCOM

Gary Gonser, ESCOM President, reported that 250 attended the 50th Anniversary of ESCOM celebration and that it was a considerable success.

ESCOM, AARP, Senior Planet, and the Marin Commission on Aging have partnered to provide 1-hour computer use trainings to seniors. Donations to facilitate these instruction include 15 iPads and 14 Chromebooks.

ESCOM has continued to actively recruit members and plans outreach in West Marin and Paul Daubenmire will give a STEM lecture next week (11/17). Past presentations and activities include a section on aging with the Front Porch group, and home matching with seniors and students seeking a room to rent. There is discussion about how to bring back Mini-Medical, but it is extremely expensive to do so.

The Marin Independent Journal highlighted ESCOM and its work in a recent article.

ASCOM

Student Senate President Ryan Barbosa congratulated David on the announcement that there are plans to name the future Learning Resource Center in his honor.

He described that post-pandemic time seems to be different and goes by much faster. ASCOM did not fulfill all its many goals that were planned at the outset of the semester but has accomplished a lot. ASCOM has awarded $10,000 to clubs, sent 9 students and one faculty member to the Model United Nations conference, and held many events. The most recent events include Undocumented Students Day, Dia de la Muertos, and more.

There has been a significant increase in students who want to serve on ASCOM. The plan is to increase visibility during elections at the end of next semester.

Classified Senate

Classified Senate representative Kim Foulger reported on behalf of Sally Wong.

The Classified Senate had a successful and fun Halloween Fundraiser event on October 31, 2023. All the Classified Senators and several volunteers helped with all aspects of the event and there was a lot of positive feedback after the event. Classified professionals enjoyed connecting and community building, with about 75 classified staff and a few managers in attendance. SchoolsFirst Federal Credit Union sponsored the lunch prepared by Sol Food Restaurant that everyone enjoyed. Also, there was a raffle for $1300 worth of gift cards and prizes.

The Classified Senate continues to fundraise through See's Candies called "Yum Raising" with $94 raised to date. The Book Club just finished discussing Spare by Prince Harry, with the next book selection coming soon. More Classified Senate events will take place in the Spring semester and the Senate continues to review policies and procedures.

Academic Senate

Academic Senate President Maria Coulson reported that faculty continue to work on 10+1 policies and procedures and are working on PRAC recommendations, the move towards zero textbook cost degrees for Anthropology and Communications, incomplete grades, and tackling artificial intelligence (AI) in class work.
