What inspired you today?

Seeing Classified professional learning sessions led by Classified Professionals was inspiring!

Getting together with colleagues to discuss ways to address white supremacy

I learned practical, applicable software skills

I realized that I've always wanted to help others and still do!

I came away with the impression that the facilitators really wanted to help us advance in our careers, whether it was at COM or beyond.

I plan to speak with my supervisor about disaster preparedness in my building

NEW for Fall Classified PL Day

- Opening session get-to-know-you icebreaker – very successful!
 - Spanish translation provided for the written program and two Spanish interpreters were available day-of this time
 - Location at Jonas Center this time. Increased attendance but additional scheduling conflicts w/ student services at KTD (tutoring, testing, etc)
 - Increased number of sessions facilitated / led by Classified Professionals
 - Additional of lunch activities to build in more fun: yoga, art/planting, and IVC Organic Farm tour

Looking Ahead....

- Suggested date for spring Classified PL Day is Wednesday of Spring Break (March 20) at Kentfield
- Bringing back Betina Vallin and Rebecca Moon-Stone from 3CSN
- Requested topics to add (based on participant feedback):
 - ◆ Conflict management / de-escalation
 - ◆ Delivering excellent customer service
 - ◆ How to help students with current struggles they face and crisis-management
