- Brown Act – AB 361 and Teleconferencing

All governing bodies that are subject to the Brown Act must comply with the provisions of AB 361 in order to meet remotely without following all other Brown Act teleconferencing requirements.

AB 361 Requirements for Teleconferencing

Under AB 361, a governing body may use teleconferencing [audio, video or both] in any of the following circumstances (Gov. Code § 54953(e)(1)):

(A) The legislative body holds a meeting during a proclaimed state of emergency, and state or local officials have imposed or recommended measures to promote social distancing.

(B) The legislative body holds a meeting during a proclaimed state of emergency for the purpose of determining, by majority vote, whether as a result of the emergency, meeting in person would present imminent risks to the health or safety of attendees.

(C) The legislative body holds a meeting during a proclaimed state of emergency and has determined, by majority vote, pursuant to subparagraph (B) that, as a result of the emergency, meeting in person would present imminent risks to the health or safety of attendees.
